Making the best data drive the best outcomes

Discover, profile and transform your data with our modern data management platform

Aperture Data Studio

Only Aperture Data Studio combines self-service data quality with globally curated data sets. This allows modern data practitioners to build the most consistent, accurate and holistic views of consumer data available. As such, the system is designed to help you tackle your most pressing challenges around gaining a single customer view and improving day-to-day data quality to promote operational efficiency and improved accuracy in reporting.

Empowers You to Take Control

- Drag-and-drop workflow make profiling, enriching and transforming your data quick and easy
- See the results of your workflow immediately. Build, experiment and sandbox with confidence
- Data Studio understands business data out-of-the box, providing built-in validations for a wide range of common expressions

Unrivalled Speed to Value

- Data Studio needs minimal training. You can create sophisticated data management routines and share them with colleagues in a few hours
- Operationalise data management – re-useable elements promote best practice that is tuned to your business data
- A range of affordable licensing options, allowing you to scale your usage over time

The Best of Your Data and Our Data

- Leverage petabytes of expertly-curated consumer and business records globally, enhancing your data with ours in a few simple clicks
- Continuously verify that you have accurate address and email data to improve communications, analytics and integrations
- Use fuzzy matching to eliminate duplicates to improve the integrity of your data

“As a seasoned Data Migration consultant the ability to rapidly perform a comprehensive assessment of the quality of my client’s data and provide the visual insights directly to the business community is incredibly powerful. At any stage through the data migration journey we can monitor the success of our data quality validation and cleansing initiatives by reporting at source, in the staging or post migration”

— DTA Consulting Limited, Independent Data Migration consultancy
